Governor Trinkle Visits the College

E. Lee Trinkle, Governor of Virginia, accompanied by Col. LeRoy Hodges, Director of the Budget, spent a few hours at the College Monday afternoon. The Governor and Col. Hodges, during their brief visit, made a tour of the campus and buildings with a view to getting a line on the needs of the College. Governor Trinkle will present his budget recommendations to the Legislature at its next session, and he expressed the hope that provision could be made for several improvements and changes that are obviously needed.

During his walk about the campus, accompanied by several officials of the College, the Governor came upon a group of football players who were resting. They arose to their feet, and after shaking hands with them, he passed a few pleasantries.

The Governor expressed himself as very much pleased with the general appearance of things about the College.

Ancient Languages Growing Popular

After several years of comparatively small attendance, the department of classical languages at the College is again becoming popular among the students. This year's registration shows a large increase in numbers and a larger increase in proportion to the student body. Last year there were 20 students in Latin classes out of 670 in College, while this year there are 41 of the 815 enrolled. In the Greek sections there are 44 against about 30 last year. The enrollment in Greek is thought to be one of the largest in the South or West.

The classical courses offered at the College of William and Mary are among the best to be found in the South, is the opinion of competent authority. The department is under the direction of Dr. W. A. Montgomery, with Professor G. H. Gelsinger in charge of the work in Greek. These courses, although no classical values are sacrificed, are conducted with a representative modern language in mind. Besides linguistic proficiency, practical and cultural good can be derived from the work.

Pan-Hellenic Awards Cup

The Pan-Hellenic Council has awarded the Scholarship Cup to the keeping of the Kappa Alpha Theta Fraternity for the coming year. The award was based on the comparative scholastic averages of the women's fraternities for the school year ending last June. The standing of the various fraternities was as follows:

Kappa Alpha Theta	2.0823
Kappa Kappa Gamma	2.0015
Chi Omega	1.7844
Delta Phi Kappa	1.7531

The cup will be awarded each year to the fraternity having the highest standing during the entire year. Whenever a fraternity holds the cup for three consecutive years it will become the property of that fraternity.

The cup was awarded this year for the first time.

Class Assembly Days Announced

H. L. Bridges, Registrar of the College, announces the following days for class assemblies:

Seniors: Tuesday at 8:45 a. m.
Juniors: Wednesday at 8:45 a. m.
Sophomores: Thursday at 8:45 a. m.

NOTICE!

The President of the Student Body has called a meeting of all old men to be held in Chapel Saturday, September 29, at 8:45 a. m., for the purpose of electing one member each to the Honor and Discipline Councils, to fill vacancies caused by the withdrawal from College of H. L. Gilbert and C. Roy Hoskins.

The following men have been nominated by the present Councils in joint session, one to be elected from each group as indicated:

For the Honor Council:
Harry Wilkins,
J. C. Phillips,
George A. Downing.
For the Discipline Council:
Tommy Jordan,
R. E. Kennard,
J. Swanson Smith.

All old men are urged to be present at this meeting as there will be some other matters of importance to be discussed.

Monogram Club Holds Meeting

The initial meeting of the Monogram Club was held last Friday and the following officers were elected for this year:

Whitten Hastings, President.
Bob Saffelle, Vice-President.
Henry Moncure, Secretary and Treasurer.

The Club ruled that no wearing of the insignia of any prep school would be tolerated, and that the wearing of the monograms of other schools by upper classmen or freshmen would be looked upon with disfavor both by the Club and the rest of the student body.

It was decided that the initiation and reception to last year's letter men will be held immediately after football season. The Club selected Wednesday as letter day, and every letter man is expected to wear his sweater on that day, the weather permitting.

Freshman Reception Held Monday Night

The Duc Reception, given every year by the Y. W. and Y. M., was held in Jefferson Hall Gymnasium last Monday night.

David George, President of the Y. M., introduced Dr. W. A. R. Goodwin, of the faculty, who in his greeting to the freshmen, told something of the past of the College and urged the Class of '27 to live up to it. Miss Taylor, too, gave them a cordial welcome.

The feature of the evening then commenced, namely, every Duc getting acquainted with his three hundred and some odd classmates. Between these introductions the College quartet sang.

After refreshments, the Ducs sought out their new acquaintances and the rest of the evening was spent in dancing.

Literary Magazine Announces Program

E. Welford Brauer, Editor of the Literary Magazine, announces his program for the coming year as follows:

Volume XXXI of the William and Mary Literary Magazine will be published this year beginning November 1, 1923, in six issues of approximately sixty-five pages each. These issues will appear on the first day of the following months: November, December, February, April, May and June. The contents of the volume and its general character as well as that of the various issues may be judged from the last number of Volume XXX, which may be seen in the library.

In order to maintain and increase the variety of subject matter and the quality of material published, the staff of the Magazine urgently requests the alumni of the College and the students of the Summer Session, Extension Divisions, and regular session of the College to contribute work in all fields of literary endeavor.

In order to stimulate greater interest in writing for the magazine, the staff has decided to offer the following prizes in addition to the James Barron Hope Scholarship:

1. For the best prose essay, fifty dollars ($50.00).
2. For the best poem, not considering the one for which the James Barron Hope Scholarship is awarded, fifty dollars ($50.00).
3. For the best short story, fifty dollars ($50.00).

All students of the Summer Session of 1923 and of the extension classes and the regular College classes of 1923-1924, who are paid up subscribers, are eligible to compete for these prizes.

In order to promote close relationship between alumnus and student and to maintain contact between the alumnus and the College, the Magazine will reserve space in each issue for alumni news and notes. In introducing this feature, the staff needs the co-operation of the alumni. If you are an alumnus of this College, write to us; we shall be glad to hear from you.

All business correspondence should be addressed to the business manager, Mr. J. A. Wilkins.

Contributions should be mailed to the editor not later than one month before the date of the issue in which the contributor desires his work to appear. Manuscripts will not be returned unless especially requested.

The subscription price will remain the same as in the past—three dollars ($3.00) for the year. Subscriptions are now being received; send in yours now, with your address for delivery, and receipt will be forwarded by return mail.

Chi Omegas Have A New Pledge

Omicron Beta Chapter of Chi Omega announces the pledging of Catherine E. Moore.

Dramatic Tryouts To Be Held Soon

Again a better and a more successful year in the field of Dramatic Art is being looked forward to by the Dramatic Club. With the new course in the Drama under Mr. Irving White, which has been added to the curriculum, covering the period of Greek drama up to the modern drama, to stimulate interest in this field, greater things should be achieved.

It is the purpose of the Dramatic Club to produce two one-act plays a month until the spring, when three-act plays will be studied and produced. During the next few days a meeting will be called by the Club and all freshmen as well as the older students will be invited to try out for parts.

A great improvement has been shown each year in this work and this year is expected to exceed all others. The players have been somewhat hampered by not having a theatre of their own in which to produce their plays. But it is hoped that the time is not far distant when with persistence and united efforts we shall accomplish this end.

The self-confidence and poise for which all of us strive, are a few benefits work with the Dramatic Club offers. So watch for the announcement of date for try-outs; it will be made very soon; and when it comes, come out and find just what you can do.

Edith Baer Club Elects Officers

A very enthusiastic meeting of the Edith Baer Club was held Tuesday evening, September 25, in one of the Home Economics rooms of the Science Hall.

Elizabeth Gaines was elected President to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Mary L. Parker.

Various changes were made in the constitution and plans, both immediate and general, were discussed.

While the Edith Baer Club is composed only of members of the Home Economics Department, it stands for the good of the whole College as well. All money raised or earned by it is returned to the College through various channels such as contributions to building and improvement funds.

Meeting of Women Students Next Monday

ITS LACQUER-RED COLOR MAKES IT HARD TO LOSE

The Pen that made the Grade

Will Help You Make It Too

ONE reason alone that the Parker Duofold is invaluable to students is because fluent writing induces fluent thinking! You can't compose your thoughts if an unruly pen harries your brain. But Duofold's balanced swing, its super-smooth point, its fit and business-like feel in your hand, all give your mind free rein!

Ask your student friends who use this classic pen—they'll tell you they would rather let go of seven dollars than have to part with the faithful Duofold.

Its over-size ink capacity holds a long-distance ink supply. And its point is not only smooth as a polished jewel, but no style of writing can distort it; hence, a pen you can lend without fear.

Students call it the "All-American" Pen because it's the ranking favorite at leading universities and colleges.

Give yourself a flying start this year by getting Duofold this week.

Track Aspirants Begin Workouts

Despite the large number of letter men who did not return to College this year, Coach Tucker Jones appeared very optimistic when asked about the prospects in track for this fall. "We hope for the best and we are surely going to do our best," he said.

Physical examination of the members of the freshman class disclosed a number of promising men. These new comers will work with the members of last year's squad in response to the call for track men to be issued Monday. It is thought that between 75 and 100 aspirants will be out at that time. Instruction is to be given in all of the fundamentals of track work.

At present Coach Jones' greatest difficulty seemed to be the lack of a suitable place for practice. He expects to begin on the grounds in front of the library, and to continue there until a regular cinder track is made.

SALUATIONS

With this issue the Flat Hat enters upon its thirteenth year of publication. An unlucky number, surely; but the Staff holds no faith in ill omens. Our aim at the outset is to give the students of William and Mary a paper worthy of the high standards of the College. If it can be made to fulfil the purpose for which it was created, its editors will feel that their task is well done.

The Flat Hat extends to all newcomers a hearty welcome to William and Mary. We urge them to become a part of the institution; absorb its ideals and traditions; put into your college life as much as you expect to get from it, for the College cannot live and grow if its students are indifferent and careless of their obligations to it.

A word to the freshmen. You cannot expect to get anything without effort. Spirit is an indispensable factor in the success of any school. Some things may not meet with your entire approval; "Duc Rules" may seem silly and unnecessary. But remember that they are traditional; they are as much a part of college life as Physics, English or Logic. Gentlemanly submission to the little things required of you will go much further toward making your stay here worth while than will a sullen, antagonistic spirit of disregard. The College needs you so long as you cooperate, so long as you enter into the spirit of college life; but it does not need you if you cannot live up to its requirements. So, if you would become a credit to your College, learn the things required of you, whether they be in the catalogue or announced to you at class assembly. Observe the "Duc Rules," do not neglect class work, learn the yells and songs, attend all meetings and assemblies, put your whole soul into supporting the Athletic Teams, and your stay at William and Mary will be both pleasant and profitable.

Attention of all freshmen, both men and women, is called to the Rules for Freshmen printed elsewhere in this issue. Violations of these rules will be reported to the Discipline Council, and the offender will be dealt with at their discretion. Observance of these rules is a simple matter, and will save lots of embarrassment. Make yourself popular by a quiet and careful observance of the rules.

Quite a few students bought papers Sunday morning and after reading them left them scattered about the campus. Such a practice gives the campus an ill-kept appearance, and visitors get a bad impression. A little care about such matters would help a lot toward keeping the campus attractive.

Indians Defeat Norfolk Eleven

William and Mary Scores 21-to-0 Victory in First Game.

William and Mary opened the 1923 gridiron schedule here Saturday afternoon by decisively defeating the Norfolk Fire Department eleven by the score of 21-to-0.

The game was played on a muddy field, which prevented both teams from displaying any unusual form. It was apparent from the opening whistle that the visiting team was not in condition. The game was slowed up by numerous minor injuries suffered by the Firemen. In the face of obvious defeat they fought hard until the end to check the Indians.

Outstanding features of the game were a completed thirty-yard pass to Jordan, which resulted in a touch-down, and the general hard plunging of the entire Indian back field.

Coach Tasker made numerous substitutions, giving practically the entire squad a tryout. Although outweighed by several pounds, the Indian line had little trouble in advancing into the visitors' territory.

Immediately after the game Coach Tasker reduced the Varsity squad to twenty-five men. The line-up:

W. & M.	Position	Firemen
Chalkley	left end	Red Gregory

Indians Away On Northern Trip

The Indians, 23 strong, left here Thursday night for Annapolis, where they will clash Saturday with the Naval Academy eleven. Coach Tasker held a long signal drill Wednesday afternoon and pronounced every man fit to start the game, although making no predictions to the outcome of the battle, with the exception of the statement that the "Naval Academy eleven will know that they have been in a game."

The team that will start against William and Mary weighs on an average of about 166 pounds, the lin-averages of 174 pounds and the backfield 159. The team is as a whole a little lighter than last year.

John Todd, of Newport News, acting captain, will start the game at center and the Navy man opposing him will have to battle. Lee Todd, brother of John, who is attending William and Mary for the first time this year, has practically cinched a berth at tackle while "Doc" Rangeley is almost sure to start at guard. Rangeley is a big man and a player that any opponent has a hard time to get through. Keister, Fitzhugh, House and Parsons are fighting it out for the guard and tackle position open while Tommy Jordan and Chalkley will start the game at ends.

Coach Tasker has his hardest task selecting the quarter to start the battle, there being three candidates and all are good and practically on a par to each other: Matsu, the Ohioan; Goetz from Norfolk and Charles from Newport News are putting up a merry fight for the honor of calling signals. Cofer, Irwin and Cain may start in the backfield against the Naval Academy with Hastings and Marks in reserve.

Duc: "How shall I close this letter?"

Soph: "Sign it B. V. D. That gets closest to them." —Woolvin.

Teacher: "Your expression is absurd."

Girl: "Why?"

"How can a man hatch out a scheme?"

"He might set his mind upon it."

—Oregon Orange Owl.

COUNT RUMFORD
1753-1814

Born Benjamin Thompson in Massachusetts. Charged with being a Tory, went to England, and became Under-Secretary of the Colonies. Later, in Bavaria reorganized the military department and was made Count Rumford. Returned to England and engaged in scientific research. Founded the Rumford professorship at Harvard.

He watched the pot as it boiled

Thousands of people had watched the boiling pot, but Count Rumford wondered why it boiled. He did more than wonder; by scientific research he found out for himself.

And Rumford laid the foundation of the greatest generalization the human mind has yet conceived—the law of the conservation of energy.

Scientists in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company are devoting their lives to pure research, carrying on the work of Rumford and other pioneers of modern science. By methodical investigation, the frontier of scientific knowledge is being pushed steadily forward.

The General Electric Company, by continuous scientific research, has developed new and better ways of making electricity of use to mankind.

Here and There

First Critic: "How did you like the play?"

Second Critic: "I asked you first!"
—Judge.

Some guys are so broke that they call money "John." Not familiar enough with it to call it "Jack."
—Our Navy.

Stew: "Almost had a date tonight."
Ed.: "How was that?"
Stew: "Asked a girl and she said 'No.'"

Her: "Don't you think Gorma Nish is just thrilling in 'Wild Oats?'"
Him: "Yeah. That's her best cereal."

—Boston Beanpot.

Ima: "I understand your son is very much inclined toward study."
Lyre: "Yes, he inclined so much he slid to the bottom of his class."

"Say Bud, did you see that swallow?"
"See what swallow?"
"That bird."
"No, what did he swallow?"
—Judge.

It is reported from reliable sources that a certain well known Duc from — was seen looking at the sun dial Sunday night and muttering something about "Why don't the darn thing work?"

Co.: "I'm going to the store to get some lemons."
Ed.: "Why go to the store? There are lots of them on the campus."
Co.: "But I want the kind you squeeze."
Ed.: "Well?"

Mother (to daughter): "My goodness, how did you get all that ink on the side of your face?"

Daughter's fiancé (unconsciously searching in vest pocket): "Gosh; is that pen leaking again?"
—Jack-o-Lantern.

"We met, and the very next day," said Lucille,
"He took me to ride in his automobile,"
"And before he had gone many miles," said she
"The man had actually proposed to me;
Now what do you think of such a proceeding?"
Her friend replied: "I should say he was speeding."
